AT THE MEETING LAST NIGHT

The longest session held—Efforts to decrease the Superintendent's Salary and Declare Void the Former Board's Action in Engaging Mr. Sanor For a Term of Three Years.

Last night's session of the board of education was the most lengthy one held since the inception of the new board, and during the meeting many questions of importance arose and provoked long-drawn out discussions and warm debates. One matter of unusual importance considered was whether or not the new board should contract afresh for the services of the superintendent, or whether the action of the former board in engaging the services of Mr. Sanor for a term of three years was binding on the present board. Here was a question to contend with that bid fair to outrival, in its perplexity, the state of uncertainty that prevailed in regard to the proper method to pursue in issuing bonds.

This question, it was explained, was not raised antagonistic to Superintendent Sanor, but merely with a view to act in thorough conformity with the law, it having been maintained by several members that, when the present classification of the school district took place, the contract made by the old board was null and void upon their exit from office.

The board convened at 8:40 with all members present except Nickle. President McGraw opened the meeting with prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting were hastily dispensed with, and the business of the evening at once taken up. The reports of the various committees were called for, and Mr. McClain, who was appointed to bring the matter of paying for lights in the tower to council's notice, reported that the city fathers had taken adverse action on this question and that he would recommend that the light be turned off. Mr. Stevenson was opposed to doing this. He explained that the reason for the unusual size of the light bill was that the lights in the tower had been left burning night and day. Continuing, the gentleman thought that it was a duty that was owing their constituents that the face of the tower should not be veiled at night because of a lack of illumination.

Mrs. Whitehead thought that the money expended for this purpose might be better applied by adding it to the teachers' salaries.

The board individually aired their opinions on this matter, and while admitting that the light was a good thing, deemed it best to vote it down in view of the shortage of funds. Mr. Stevenson alone voting to sustain the light. Therefore the light in the tower will be ordered turned off.

Mr. Stevenson reported that he had interviewed Superintendent Andrews in regard to securing reduced rates for transportation of school children on the street cars, and that the superintendent had curtly informed him that the company would not enter into any agreement with the board for a lesser rate. Somebody sarcastically remarked that a vote of thanks should be tendered Superintendent Andrews for his courtesy.

Professor Sanor announced that resolutions touching on the death of the late school teacher, Miss Anna A. Bentley, had been prepared, and submitted them to the board. It was decided to ingraft a copy of the resolutions on the minutes.

At this moment Professor Sanor introduced Professor Butler, of Indianapolis, a music teacher, who, in a five minute speech, endeavored to impress upon the board the necessity of having music taught in the public schools, and wound up his remarks by asking that his name be considered for the position if the board decided to add this study. The music teacher paid a graceful tribute to the board on the way it conducted business, and administered a pretty compliment to the city on possessing such a fine school building. These words of praise might tickle the vanity of some school boards. President McGraw told the professor of music that consideration would be given his remarks.

The following bills were ordered paid: Mrs. A. Roberts, $2.70; Andy Rattray, $4; Ohio Valley Business college, $3; Ed Hood, $6.

The clerk read an invitation from Buffalo to the local board to send delegates to a convention to meet in the above city July 8, 9 and 10. The communication was tabled for the present.

Mr. Sanor then stated that there was not a sufficient number of teachers to fill the vacancies for the coming term, and that it would be expedient to make provision for this matter soon. Miss Huston, teacher of science in the high school, the superintendent said, had told him that unless her salary was increased she would not return in the fall. A number of other teachers had also given notice that they would resign their positions. In all, there are 16 vacancies to be filled. The superintendent showed that it was necessary to have teachers in the grammar school that were eminently qualified to fill those positions. If they were incompetent, scholars passing into the high school would be insufficiently taught, and therefore make more work for the high school teachers. Four or five well trained, competent teachers, the superintendent said, should be placed in this grade. Those having had experience in a normal school should be given precedence. The above report was received.

Then the question of what salaries were to be paid the teachers was raised. The discussion following was very prolonged. The clerk announced that a number of teachers expected an increase in salaries. Mr. Stevenson, to expedite matters, moved that with $30 as the lowest figure, the salaries of all teachers up to the $45 grade be raised $2.50 a month. Amid much discussion, this motion eventually prevailed. Thus, new teachers starting in now will receive $30 a month, instead of $27.50, as formerly paid.

It was held by many that, in justice to the high school teachers, they also should have an increase in salary, and a motion to this effect was made. At this moment Mr. Nickle arrived and at once entered a vigorous protest against any raising of salaries. He said that the board would get into a financial hole before the year was over. It was argued that the term of school would have to be lessened one month in order to have money enough to pay salaries. Here was a dilemma that caused a division of thought.

Clerk Norris jumped to his feet several times, and with emphasis, argued against the raising of salaries. His objections were based solely on the depleted condition of the treasury.

Mr. Stevenson said that Columbiana county had the reputation of paying the lowest salaries for teachers in the state, and that he believed in paying salaries commensurate with the teachers' ability. If we can't, better lessen the term of school to do it.

Superintendent Sanor explained that, when a teacher left to take a course of study in a normal school, when she returned she was advanced double, owing to the experience that she would have gained. During this long discussion the motion before the board was almost forgotten, and after the president remarked that the issue of bonds should have been for $18,000, instead of $15,000, as the latter figure would not permit of the paying of the interest on the amount, the question was called for and voted on. The result was a tie vote; therefore the motion to increase high school teachers' salaries was lost.

A letter from Miss Andrews, of Sewickley, was received, asking for a position in the grammar school, but no action taken on it.

A note from Miss Flo Updegraph, asking the board to endorse a note for $40 due on the piano of the high school, was received and favorably acted upon.

The clerk announced that a great deal of complaint was made against the smoke that came from the stilt works adjoining the school building; that the scholars' health is endangered. The building committee were instructed to look into this matter.

Superintendent Sanor arose and stated that as Miss Huston had declared her intention of resigning if the board did not advance her salary, that it would be prudent to engage a teacher at once, and recommended that Miss Brewster, a lady thoroughly qualified, be given the position. Mr. Nickle then moved the superintendent be instructed to notify the lady that her services would be accepted.

Before any further action was taken, Mr. McClain jumped to his feet, and wanted to know what the nature of the superintendent's contract is. Mr. Sanor stated that his contract called for a term of three years, two of which have already been served. This matter occasioned a long discussion, it being asserted that when the previous board stepped out of office that the superintendent's term of office also expired, and that a board could not make a contract for a longer term of office than they would fill; therefore the former board's action was invalid and that it was necessary to make a new contract with the superintendent.

Mr. Sanor stated that he had written to the state commissioner a short time ago touching on this matter, and he received an answer that the contract as originally made was valid. The contract was produced and read. As there was a motion before the board unacted

RECEIVED THE AWARDS

Homer Laughlin Secures a Diploma and Medal

AFTER WAITING THREE YEARS

They Were Granted on Fine Decorated and White Granite Ware, and Were the Only Ones Given at the World's Fair—Diploma and Medal Very Handsome.

The fact that East Liverpool has a pottery that makes the finest decorated and white granite ware in the world is not known to a greater part of the citizens. Such is the case, as is shown by the diploma and medal received by Homer Laughlin. The awards granted him show something that every East Liverpool citizen should be exceedingly proud of, as they not only uphold the reputation of this as a pottery center, but show to the world the kind of ware manufactured here.

After waiting for three years, Homer Laughlin this morning received the diploma and medal granted him on decorated and white granite ware at the World's Columbian Exposition.

The diploma is an exceedingly handsome one, being engraved in a striking manner. In the center of it are the following reasons for which the awards were granted:

Decorated Granite ware—For decorated white dinner and toilet wares, showing careful potting and decorations of original and artistic designs.

W. W. HARKER, Individual Judge.

White and Plain wares—For white granite ware of excellent quality, the color and density of the body, the brilliancy of the glaze, the fine quality of the workmanship and well modelled shapes.

SOLOMON F. STRATTON, Individual Judge.

On the outside of the paper box in which the medal came, is the number 11404, showing that 11403 others have been sent before Mr. Laughlin received his, which accounts, in part, for the long delay in receiving this award.

The medal is a large, handsome, bronze one, enclosed in an aluminum box. On one side of it is an engraving of Christopher Columbus discovering America, while on the other side, which is also handsomely engraved, is the inscription: "World's Columbian Exposition, in commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of the landing of Columbus, 1492-1893, to Homer Laughlin."

The diploma and medal are highly prized by Mr. Laughlin, as they are very valuable, and go to show that as fine decorated and white granite ware is made in East Liverpool as in any other place in the world. The premiums would have been of much greater value had they been received two years ago, but will ultimately prove of great worth and will be treasured for years to come.

The two awards are both first prizes and were the only awards of any kind granted on white granite ware at the World's fair, which fact naturally increases their value to Mr. Laughlin.

A LAW SUIT.

The News Review Versus A. R. Gould Was Aired in Court Yesterday.

The history of the suit brought by the NEWS REVIEW company against Squire Gould, of the Buckeye Benefit association, occupied the greater part of yesterday in Squire Manley's court. At the instigation of the plaintiff the case was heard by a jury, who returned a judgment in favor of the NEWS REVIEW for $15, the amount acknowledged by the defendant as being due. The suit was for $22.50, amount due on printing for the association, PER A. R. Gould. Jason Brookes represented the plaintiff, while Colonel Hill handled the defense. The case will, in all probability, be appealed to a higher court by the prosecution. The jury decided that the defendant was morally, but not legally, responsible for the full amount claimed.

THE ST. LOUIS TRIP.

The Chart Is Now Closed, With But Three Berths Remaining.

The chart for the McKinley club excursion to St. Louis has been closed, and but three berths remain. The party will leave the depot at 6:25 Monday evening, arriving at Steubenville at 8 o'clock. From that point the excursion will run as a special, leaving at 9:55 p. m. and arriving at its destination the following afternoon at 2 o'clock. The cars will be sidetracked at a convenient location, and will be occupied by the excursionists during the convention, doing away with the hard task of looking up furnished rooms. Parties from nearly every section of the county have secured berths and will be on hand to see America's champion nominated, either by acclamation or on the first ballot.

THE HOMING CLUB.

The Pigeons Fly Home From Indiana Station.

The East Liverpool Homing club again tried the swiftness of their pigeons by a fly from Indiana Station, 300 miles distant, to this city. The members of the club having birds represented were Elias Sherwood, George Smith and George Meredith. At 10 o'clock Sunday morning the pigeons were released, and the one belonging to Mr. Sherwood was the first to come in, arriving at 2:55 in the afternoon. The slow time made by the bird was caused by a difficult flight through a strong headwind. Next Sunday the birds will be released at Plymouth, 400 miles distant, and the Sunday following from Chicago.

MUSCULAR WIFE

Knocks Her Husband, a Saloonkeeper, Down.

An unusual sight was witnessed on Union street this morning. The wife of a saloonkeeper met her husband there and commenced to upbraid him for taking money belonging to her and spending it in drink.

To these mild overtures the husband was totally indifferent, which so angered the wife that she pitched into her recalcitrant spouse and pummeled him with her fists to her heart's content. She finally desisted after knocking him down several times, and the husband was induced by this little persuasion to accompany his wife home.

Appraised the Property.

Sheriff Gill was in the city today for the purpose of serving an execution on Delia Morris, to satisfy the judgment given Harriet Woodburn in common pleas court some time ago. Harry Peach, J. J. Purinton and John McGarry appraised the property this morning, one tract of land being valued at $10,500 and the other at $2,600. The property will be sold unless the judgment of $2,500 is paid.

Stopped Them.

A number of saloonists were engaged in playing ball in the Midway Plaisance this afternoon, when Officer Meador arrived and forced them to discontinue the sport.

Thanks.

McIntosh, the grocer, has our thanks for the present of delicious strawberries, genuine beauties.

ASSIGNMENT OF CASES

Business to Be Transacted in Court Next Week.

THE COURT GRANTS A DIVORCE

Frank Duncan's Wife Left Him, Presumably For a Ten-Days' Visit, and Has Been Absent For Two Years—Other News From the Courthouse.

Lisbon, June 2.—The assignment for next week has been completed, and is as follows:

Monday—Ohio versus Joseph O. Johnson.

Tuesday—Ohio versus John Polen; Ohio versus William Miller; Ohio versus Anthony Gavin, Jr.

Wednesday—Ohio versus Steven Lynch; Ellsworth Culler versus village of Sallineville.

Thursday—Henry Shontz versus Taylor Temple; Otto Schmidt versus the East Liverpool Turnverein; Kay & Holtz versus William C. Hutchinson.

Friday—Honora Ready versus village of Leetonia; J. D. West versus William Jennings.

Frank Duncan, manager of the electric light plant of this place, was granted a divorce in court this morning from his wife, whom he married in Toronto, Canada, six years ago. Two years after their marriage Mrs. Duncan went to the home of her parents in Canada for a visit of 10 days, and up to the present time she has not returned. She took with her their child, aged eight months, and the father says that he has learned incidentally that it died within six months after her departure.

Several months ago Thomas Carlisle entered suit against Harrison Clapsaddle, asking $1,000 damages for alleged slander. The case was called in court this morning. The parties live a few miles south of Lisbon on adjoining farms, and up to six months ago were on the best of terms. A disagreement arose between them, and Clapsaddle accused Carlisle of stealing several farming implements, and in the presence of a number of people called him a "dirty, low-lived thief." The claim the defendant makes is that he was in a heated passion, for which passion it is probable he will be compelled to pay.

The motion for a new trial in the case of Harriet Woodburn against Adelia Morris has been overruled and the defendant ordered to pay $2,500, for which a judgment was recently given her for injuries received by falling into a coal hole.

Miss Alice Glenn, who for the past year has acted as assistant court stenographer, was this morning appointed to fill the vacancy made by W. H. Pritchard, who was compelled to resign on account of ill health. She will be qualified in a few days.

George F. Fander, of Unity township, was adjudged to be insane today. He was taken to the infirmary by Sheriff Gill until such time as he can be conveyed to Newburg.

A marriage license was issued to Harry Mellon and Gertrude Russell, of East Liverpool.

NEW BOAT

May Fly Between This City and Steubenville.

Captain Thomas McCleary, of the steamer Ford City, is contemplating building a light steamer for passenger and excursion purposes, to ply between this city and Steubenville. The craft will be made light in order that during the low stage of water it can be run.

The captain is under the impression that, if properly managed, this proposed venture would prove a success. It has not yet been decided when the boat will be constructed.

A Water Haul.

The patrol was called to Second street yesterday for the purpose of arresting a young man who was making a disturbance. The young man caught on in the meantime, and was gone when the patrol came around the corner of Washington street, and the spectators say it was remarkable the quick time he made in disappearing from view.

For Two Months.

Dick Albright and family arrived in the city last night from Covington, Kentucky. Mr. Albright has been granted a furlough from the Salvation Army for two months, and will spend the majority of that time with his parents, J. W. Albright and wife, of McKinnon's addition.

Trades Council.

Trades council will hold an important meeting at their hall tomorrow evening, as a large amount of business is to be transacted.

RECEIVED THE AWARDS

Homer Laughlin Secures a Diploma and Medal

AFTER WAITING THREE YEARS

They Were Granted on Fine Decorated and White Granite Ware, and Were the Only Ones Given at the World's Fair—Diploma and Medal Very Handsome.

The fact that East Liverpool has a pottery that makes the finest decorated and white granite ware in the world is not known to a greater part of the citizens. Such is the case, as is shown by the diploma and medal received by Homer Laughlin. The awards granted him show something that every East Liverpool citizen should be exceedingly proud of, as they not only uphold the reputation of this as a pottery center, but show to the world the kind of ware manufactured here.

After waiting for three years, Homer Laughlin this morning received the diploma and medal granted him on decorated and white granite ware at the World's Columbian exposition.

The diploma is an exceedingly handsome one, being engraved in a striking manner. In the center of it are the following reasons for which the awards were granted:

Decorated Granite ware—For decorated white dinner and toilet wares, showing careful potting and decorations of original and artistic designs.

W. W. HARKER, Individual Judge.

White and Plain wares—For white granite ware of excellent quality, the color and density of the body, the brilliancy of the glaze, the fine quality of the workmanship and well modelled shapes.

SOLOMON F. STRATTON, Individual Judge.

On the outside of the paper box in which the medal came, is the number 11404, showing that 11403 others have been sent before Mr. Laughlin received his, which accounts, in part, for the long delay in receiving this award.

The medal is a large, handsome, bronze one, enclosed in an aluminum box. On one side of it is an engraving of Christopher Columbus discovering America, while on the other side, which is also handsomely engraved, is the inscription: "World's Columbian Exposition, in commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of the landing of Columbus, 1492-1893, to Homer Laughlin."

The diploma and medal are highly prized by Mr. Laughlin, as they are very valuable, and go to show that as fine decorated and white granite ware is made in East Liverpool as in any other place in the world. The premiums would have been of much greater value had they been received two years ago, but will ultimately prove of great worth and will be treasured for years to come.

The two awards are both first prizes and were the only awards of any kind granted on white granite ware at the World's fair, which fact naturally increases their value to Mr. Laughlin.

THE PROGRAM.

AT BRIDGEPORT.

Thomas P. Ferguson and Miss Mary Williams Married.

Thomas P. Ferguson, of this city, and Miss Mary Williams, of Bridgeport, were married at the home of the bride's parents at that place this morning, a few intimate friends of the contracting parties being present. The best man was Dave McIntosh, of this city, the bride's sister acting as bridesmaid. The groom is employed in the decorating shop at the Union pottery and is an exceedingly popular young man, while the bride has a host of friends in this city. The happy young couple will arrive here on the evening train, and a reception will be tendered to their friends tonight at the home of the groom's father, Silas M. Ferguson, Fourth street. The couple will make their future home in this city, and have a host of friends who wish them much happiness.

A LAW SUIT.

The News Review Versus A. R. Gould Was Aired in Court Yesterday.

The history of the suit brought by the News Review company against Squire Gould, of the Buckeye Benefit association, occupied the greater part of yesterday in Squire Manley's court. At the instigation of the plaintiff the case was heard by a jury, who returned a judgment in favor of the News Review for $15, the amount acknowledged by the defendant as being due. The suit was for $62.50, amount due on printing for the association, PER A. R. Gould. Jason Brookes represented the plaintiff, while Colonel Hill handled the defense. The case will, in all probability, be appealed to a higher court by the prosecution. The jury decided that the defendant was morally, but not legally, responsible for the full amount claimed.

THE ST. LOUIS TRIP.

The Chart Is Now Closed, With But Three Berths Remaining.

The chart for the McKinley club excursion to St. Louis has been closed, and but three berths remain. The party will leave the depot at 6:25 Monday evening, arriving at Steubenville at 8 o'clock. From that point the excursion will run as a special, leaving at 9:56 p. m. and arriving at its destination the following afternoon at 2 o'clock. The cars will be sidetracked at a convenient location, and will be occupied by the excursionists during the convention, doing away with the hard task of looking up furnished rooms. Parties from nearly every section of the county have secured berths and will be on hand to see America's champion nominated, either by acclamation or on the first ballot.

THE HOMING CLUB.

The Pigeons Fly Home From Indiana Station.

The East Liverpool Homing club again tried the swiftness of their pigeons by a fly from Indiana Station, 300 miles distant, to this city. The members of the club having birds represented were Elias Sherwood, George Smith and George Meredith. At 10 o'clock Sunday morning the pigeons were released, and the one belonging to Mr. Sherwood was the first to come in, arriving at 2:55 in the afternoon. The slow time made by the bird was caused by a difficult flight through a strong headwind. Next Sunday the birds will be released at Plymouth, 400 miles distant, and the Sunday following from Chicago.

MUSCULAR WIFE

Knocks Her Husband, a Saloonkeeper, Down.

An unusual sight was witnessed on Union street this morning. The wife of a saloonkeeper met her husband there and commenced to upbraid him for taking money belonging to her and spending it in drink.

To these mild overtures the husband was totally indifferent, which so angered the wife that she pitched into her recreant spouse and pummeled him with her fists to her heart's content. She finally desisted after knocking him down several times, and the husband was induced by this little persuasion to accompany his wife home.

Appraised the Property.

Sheriff Gill was in the city today for the purpose of serving an execution on Delia Morris, to satisfy the judgment given Harriet Woodburn in common pleas court some time ago. Harry Peach, J. J. Purinton and John McGarry appraised the property this morning, one tract of land being valued at $10,500 and the other at $3,600. The property will be sold unless the judgment of $2,500 is paid.

Stopped Them.

A number of saloonists were engaged in playing ball in the Midway Plaisance this afternoon, when Officer Meador arrived and forced them to discontinue the sport.

Thanks.

McIntosh, the grocer, has our thanks for the present of delicious strawberries, genuine beauties.

ASSIGNMENT OF CASES

Business to Be Transacted in Court Next Week.

THE COURT GRANTS A DIVORCE

Frank Duncan's Wife Left Him, Presumably For a Ten-Days' Visit, and Has Been Absent For Two Years—Other News From the Courthouse.

Lisbon, June 2.—The assignment for next week has been completed, and is as follows:

Monday—Ohio versus Joseph O. Johnson.

Tuesday—Ohio versus John Polen; Ohio versus William Miller; Ohio versus Anthony Gavin, Jr.

Wednesday—Ohio versus Steven Lynch; Ellsworth Culler versus village of Salineville.

Thursday—Henry Shontz versus Taylor Temple; Otto Schmidt versus the East Liverpool Turnverein; Kay & Holtz versus William C. Hutchinson.

Friday—Honora Ready versus village of Leetonia; J. D. West versus William Jennings.

Frank Duncan, manager of the electric light plant of this place, was granted a divorce in court this morning from his wife, whom he married in Toronto, Canada, six years ago. Two years after their marriage Mrs. Duncan went to the home of her parents in Canada for a visit of 10 days, and up to the present time she has not returned. She took with her their child, aged eight months, and the father says that he has learned incidentally that it died within six months after her departure.

Several months ago Thomas Carlisle entered suit against Harrison Clapsaddle, asking $1,000 damages for alleged slander. The case was called in court this morning. The parties live a few miles south of Lisbon on adjoining farms, and up to six months ago were on the best of terms. A disagreement arose between them, and Clapsaddle accused Carlisle of stealing several farming implements, and in the presence of a number of people called him a "dirty, low-lived thief." The claim the defendant makes is that he was in a heated passion, for which passion it is probable he will be compelled to pay.

The motion for a new trial in the case of Harriet Woodburn against Adelia Morris has been overruled and the defendant ordered to pay $2,500, for which a judgment was recently given her for injuries received by falling into a coal hole.

Miss Alice Glenn, who for the past year has acted as assistant court stenographer, was this morning appointed to fill the vacancy made by W. H. Pritchard, who was compelled to resign on account of ill health. She will be qualified in a few days.

George F. Fander, of Unity township, was adjudged to be insane today. He was taken to the infirmary by Sheriff Gill until such time as he can be conveyed to Newburg.

A marriage license was issued to Harry Mellon and Gertrude Russell, of East Liverpool.

NEW BOAT

May Fly Between This City and Steubenville.

Captain Thomas McCleary, of the steamer Ford City, is contemplating building a light steamer for passenger and excursion purposes, to ply between this city and Steubenville. The craft will be made light in order that during the low stage of water it can be run.

The captain is under the impression that, if properly managed, this proposed venture would prove a success. It has not yet been decided when the boat will be constructed.

A Water Haul.

The patrol was called to Second street yesterday for the purpose of arresting a young man who was making a disturbance. The young man caught on in the meantime, and was gone when the patrol came around the corner of Washington street, and the spectators say it was remarkable the quick time he made in disappearing from view.

For Two Months.

Dick Albright and family arrived in the city last night from Covington, Kentucky. Mr. Albright has been granted a furlough from the Salvation Army for two months, and will spend the majority of that time with his parents, J. W. Albright and wife, of McKinnon's addition.

Trades Council.

Trades council will hold an important meeting at their hall tomorrow evening, as a large amount of business is to be transacted.

At..... THE BOSTON STORE,

Attend the Big Sale

Hundreds did yesterday, hundreds will today, hundreds more will attend this grand reduction sale every day while it lasts, and why not? There is money saved on every purchase made. It's worth a good deal to see how delighted the people are with the bargains we offer. For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY, OF Ohio.

HOMING PIGEONS.
The flight of these winged messengers is simply extraordinary. The instinct which leads them home from a great distance is wonderful, while their speed is almost beyond credence. Fanciers in our city own some fine birds and take great pride in them.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.
The members of the Steubenville district of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society will hold their annual meeting at the First M. E. church on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, commencing on Wednesday, holding day and night sessions. The women of this organization have been and are, in the hands of Providence, a wonderful power for good. We gladly welcome them to our midst.

CLEVELAND'S VETO.
Grover Cleveland's so-called independence has degenerated into obstinacy, a characteristic which forces him, in his egotism, to say: "All men may be wrong at times; but Grover Cleveland never." In the matter of the river and harbor bill, he may and should meet with his Waterloo. He is entirely too much a believer in the one man power—the man Grover. Let our legislators exercise their power and pass the bill over the head of the dictator.

JOB WORK.
It is generally conceded that the News Review job department turns out work far superior to that of any rival establishment in this section. This is the combined result of first class machinery and first class workmen, the latter working under the encouragement of the best wages paid the craft and good treatment. Another pleasing feature to patrons is that they get work when promised. One well known merchant of this city, who had been getting all his job work done at this office, was induced to place an order with another office in this city, the inducement being a radical cut in price. The work was turned out, and the merchant afterward reported at this office, stating that he would not place another order with the so-called cheap establishment at any price; his work had been simply murdered.

GOD BLESSES THE RIGHT.
A well-known minister of East Liverpool delivered a sermon in this city on Sunday last, in which he emphasized the assertion that God always favors and blesses the individual or individuals who stand for the truth and the right, and that opposition thereto, no matter how strong or powerful it may be, will amount to nothing and must surely fail. He might have added that "God's way is not man's way." The Bible, the word of God, the blessed book given by inspiration, asserts, in unmistakable language, that truth and right shall prevail. This is glorious information to the men and women engaged in a good and holy cause. No matter how poor in this world's goods you may be, you can have the friendship and power of the Almighty God, if you but love Him, do His bidding and put your absolute trust in Him—absolute faith—and the power of worldly influence and wealth of the world cannot avail against you, if that influence and wealth attack you and assail you unjustly. Praise our Master for His wondrous mercy.

When You Take Your Vacation
The most necessary article to have with you (after your pocketbook) is a bottle of Foley's Colic and Diarrhoea cure. It is an absolute prevention or cure of all derangements of the bowels caused by a change of water. You are likely to need it.

For sale by Reed's and Bulger's drug stores.
Excursion to Columbus
Via Pennsylvania lines, June 1 and 2, for Sunday School association of Ohio meeting, low round trip excursion tickets will be sold to Columbus, O., from ticket stations on the above lines. Valid returning June 5, inclusive.

MARINES TOOK CORINTO

U. S. and British Forces Held the Town For Days.

THEY QUELLED A REBEL MOB.

A Blustering General From Honduras Tried to Drive Them Out—The U. S. S. Alert and H. M. S. Comus Cleared For Action—Thanked by Zelaya.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The correspondence of the Associated Press sends the following from Managua, Nicaragua:
In view of the fact that the government controlled the wires at the time, your correspondent here has been compelled to send by mail the following account of the landing, on May 2, at Corinto, of a force of about 100 American and British marines, from the United States cruiser Alert and the British cruiser Comus, who occupied the place.

About March 24, Samuel Mayorga, who was minister for the treasury in the Baca or revolutionary government, made a demand on Mr. H. S. Harding, an English subject, controller of the branch at Leon of the London bank of Central America, for a loan of $50,000 on about $35,000 of Nicaragua bonds of doubtful ownership, threatening to withdraw protection from the bank if the demand was not complied with within a given time. This was prevented by the United States consular agent, backed by the Alert, there being no British vessel in port at the time.

But, on April 16, Minister Mayorga issued a decree in the name of the revolutionary government, declaring that the officers and books of the custom house at Corinto were to be at once removed to Leon, the capital of the revolutionary government, situated about 30 miles in the interior, bringing rail road trains for the purpose, adding that "owing to the fact that the troops of Honduras (sent to assist the army of President Zelaya) might at any time overcome the small force of President Ena's troops at Corinto and seize the millions of dollars worth of merchandise in the custom house belonging to citizens of Nicaragua and to foreigners."

It was evident, however, that the real object of Mayorga's move was to obtain possession of this property and hold it as security for a war loan. The foreigners protested to Commander Hanford and to Captain Henry H. Dyke of the British cruiser Comus, which had arrived at Corinto about April 5, who refused to allow it.

This enraged Minister Mayorga so much that he caused the arrest of all native males in Corinto between the ages of 17 and 70 years, on the plea that a great battle was imminent at Momotombo. After detaining them on the railroad cars for a few hours, Mayorga released all of those who could pay him from $100 to $250 in cash. This he did on May 1, when his party disbanded and sought safety in flight to Guatemala with considerable sums of money extracted from the people of Nicaragua.

Although the chiefs of the insurgent party succeeded in escaping, a great number of the officers and soldiers of the insurgent army with their arms, flocked to Corinto in the hope of getting out of the country, but were unable to get away, owing to lack of means. The disappointed soldiers became reckless after their leaders deserted them, began drinking and rioting, robbing houses and outraging women and young girls. An attack upon the custom house was planned.

Consequently, at about 1 p. m. on May 2, a force of about 100 marines, commanded by four officers and a number of midshipmen, were landed from the Alert and Comus. The marines quickly drove the rioters into hiding and released the people who were barricaded in their houses.

Commander Palmer cheerfully gave up the custom house, railroad depot, cars, locomotives and merchandise, etc., to Lieutenant Baker, U. S. N., the latter's receipt for the property, and then the commanding (an insurgent official) retired into private life once more. The Nicaraguan, United States and British flags were then hoisted on the building.

In the evening, General Metuta of Honduras and about 80 soldiers arrived at the outskirts of Corinto and sent forward a messenger demanding the surrender of the custom house, railroad station and port immediately and that the marines return to their ships. Honduras being an ally of Nicaragua against the rebels.

Lieutenant Baker, U. S. N., received the message and sent a reply, asking for a written request from President Zelaya of Nicaragua or some official of his competent to represent him. General Metuta evidently had no such authority.

At about 11 o'clock in the morning, on May 3, General Metuta again appeared at Corinto with about 50 Hondurians, and proceeded toward the custom house. He and his force were driven into a narrow pathway, where the British marines turned their guns on them.

Lieutenant Baker signalled for Commander Hanford of the Alert and Captain Dyke of the Comus, who soon arrived at the custom house. For an hour or so, they patiently listened to Metuta's bluster, but when he threatened to occupy Corinto without waiting for President Zelaya's orders, the American and British commanders decided to teach the Hondurians a lesson. A few sharp orders were given, and the American and British marines, fully armed and equipped were drawn up at their different stations ashore; the Alert was signalled to steam up to and opposite the custom house, and the Comus cleared for action.

The preparations had a calming effect upon General Metuta. He began to apologize as energetically as he had at first attempted to bluff, promised to retire with his troops if the American and British commanders would permit him. They were allowed to remain, but kept quiet.

The president of Nicaragua finally sent troops and relieved the marines. He sent a message warmly thanking the United States and British commanders.

LESS OIL DRILLING.

One slump in Prices Causes a Slackening of Work.

TOLEDO, June 2.—Operations in the oil fields indicate that the decline in oil recently has had a tendency to lessen active drilling. In the Ohio belt during the month there have been 382 new wells sunk, with a product daily of 6,655 barrels. Of that number of wells, however, but 47 were dry holes. Wood county is still in the lead. This county has nearly 10,000 wells, and more are being drilled every day. Hancock county is pulling ahead rapidly, and is Wood's most formidable rival.

During the month of May there were 129 new wells drilled in Wood county, 61 in Hancock, 14 in Allen, 35 in Auglaize, 67 in Sandusky, 11 in Lucas, 31 in Mercer, 8 in Van Wert, 16 in Seneca and quite a number scattered over other counties, and largely experimental in character. In the counties named there are at present 331 wells being drilled. In Indiana the operations are being chiefly confined to the counties of Wells, Blackford, Jay, Adams, Grant and Huntington, and in these counties 142 wells were completed in the month of May. In the same counties 164 new wells are now drilling. The total new output for the month of May has averaged 2,545 barrels daily.

The new stocks of oil owned by the Buckeye Pipe lines is increasing daily, and about 23,000 barrels of the Trenton rock fluid are now stored in these mammoth tanks in Indiana and Ohio, and so rapidly are they filling during the slump in prices that arrangements have been made for the completion of 25 more in the vicinity of Findlay.

The Western Oil Men's association is endeavoring to have the operators cease crude oil for fuel in pumping their wells, in preference to purchasing coal for that purpose. This would cut down the runs at least 10,000 barrels per day.

Make It Hot For Saloonkeepers.

WASHINGTON, C. H., O., June 2.—The saloon men in this locality are faring badly at the hands of the newly-elected mayors. At Hillsboro, Mayor Davis is working hard to enforce the laws regulating saloons. At Greenfield the past week Mayor Mains fined six saloon men $100 each for selling on last Sunday. Mayor Zimmerman of this city has ordered the arrest of a half dozen liquor dealers for violating various ordinances. He fined Brent Ott $50 and costs for selling on Sunday, and a number of cases will come up for hearing this week.

Wiredrawers In Session.

CLEVELAND, June 2.—The annual meeting of the Federal Association of Wire Drawers of America is in session with 14 mills represented. The subjects to be considered are affiliation with the American Federation of Labor, the admission to membership of the nailmakers, closer relationship with the rodmill men's organization and the wage scale.

A Veteran Suicide.

ELVIRA, O., June 2.—An old soldier named A. P. Root, committed suicide in Ridgeville by taking laudanum. His family and friends were worried the deceased, who was 52 years of age. He was a sewing machine agent, working for C. A. Cox of this city. He leaves a widow and three children.

An Ohio Man Arrested.

Canton Men's Long Trip.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Two young men from Canton, O., Norman de Vaux and John Lachance, have left the city hall on bicycles to ride to San Francisco. They are making the trip as an advertisement for the wheels they are using.

Addressed by the Vice President.

BALTIMORE, June 2.—The twenty-sixth annual commencement of the Maryland University School of Law at Ford's Opera House was made notable by the presence of Vice President Stevenson and Senator Faulkner of West Virginia. The vice president spoke.

Invented His Own Death Machine.

EASTON, Pa., June 2.—Four students have been suspended from Lafayette for hazing and others are to go. The suspended men are: W. S. Ain, Williamsport, Pa.; James McFarren, Sayre, Pa.; L. Smith, Columbus, O., and Charles Carter, Philadelphia.

A Lake Steamer Founders.

TWO RIVERS, Wis., June 2.—The steamer Grace Williams, in tow of the tug Temple Emery, bound from Suttons Bay for this port, has foundered about midway between the Manitowish and the West Shore. The crew escaped to the tug.

Strike in Colorado Ended.

LAFAYETTE, Colo., June 2.—The strike in the Northern Colorado mines has ended. The men returned to work without having gained a settlement of their grievances.

Six Miners Burned.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., June 2.—A severe explosion of gas has occurred in the Buck Ridge colliery near here. Six miners are reported burned.

MANY INJURED DYING.

Burial Permits Issued Each Hour In St. Louis.

A LIST OF 120 STILL MISSING.

Many of Them Are People Living Outside of St. Louis Who Were Visiting There—Meeting to Be Called to Ask For Aid.

ST. LOUIS, June 2.—The work of clearing up the debris and repairing the damage left by Wednesday's storm continued with unabated vigor, despite the drizzling rain that has been falling, making it uncomfortable for workers and victims alike. Teams donated to the use of the storm sufferers have been used by many to move from their dismantled homes to places of security and shelter and this good work still goes on without cessation. Great numbers of people are receiving aid at the different relief depots in the way of food, clothing and household necessities that have been donated by the citizens of St. Louis. The best news is that the occupants of the demolished city hospital, 40 or 50 of whom were reported still under the ruins last week, are all accounted for. A roll call disclosed this fact.

A meeting has been called to consider the advisability of appealing for outside relief for sufferers. A list of 120 persons missing in St. Louis since the storm, is in the hands of the police. Many among them are people from outside of St. Louis who were visiting here or who had business in town. A search is being carried on for all these among the ruins of wrecked buildings.

In East St. Louis the work of relieving many homeless and destitute persons is being carried on rapidly and everywhere buildings are being repaired and debris removed to facilitate the reconstruction of residences, stores, etc. An official estimate of the loss to St. Louis has not yet been made and will not be until the submerged boats have been examined. The first estimate of $2,000,000 has dwindled down to less than $500,000 and the chances are that these figures will be reduced materially. Five persons were certainly drowned and probably others.

The continuous rains are a great drawback to the vigorous effort that are being made to start the street lights. Six days have elapsed since the terrible tornado swept over the city, and yet the long list of the dead has not reached the foot of its lengthy column. Nor is it likely that the end of this week or the next will finish it.

The number of seriously injured is many fold larger than those who did not live to survive the awful experiences of the storm and that many of them will succumb to the injuries inflicted is quite certain, for each hour the mortuary clerk is presented with new requests for burial permits.

Many animals of all descriptions were killed in the storm and their bodies are becoming a menace to those living in and about the devastated districts. These are being rapidly removed. In the last few days 130 horses and mules and five cows have been carted away. Their bodies were mangled in every conceivable manner and were found in all kinds of places. A similar work will be done in East St. Louis, where the numerous animals killed are becoming offensive.

Among the subscriptions received is one of $500 from Oates, Son & Co. of the National Bank of Scotland, in London, and $1,000 from Helen M. Gould.

NON-PARTISAN TARIFF.

A Convention to Discuss It Opens In Detroit This Afternoon.

DETROIT, June 2.—The first commercial tariff convention begins a week or ten days' session here this afternoon. A considerable number of delegates are here, among them men who are vitally interested in eliminating questions of tariff from politics and placing them in the realm of commercial subjects. One of the most prominent early arrivals is W. C. Cronmeyer of McKeesport, Pa., president of the United States Iron and Tinplate company, the pioneer in the tinplate industry, and who was a prominent figure before the McKinley house committee which prepared the McKinley tariff law. Secretary Archer of the Tariff Commission League says that he expects at least 1,000 delegates. The discussions will be confined strictly to the business features of tariff affairs, and political speeches will not be permitted. The delegates present will represent commercial and labor, and not political organizations.

The B. & O. to Borrow $5,000,000.

BALTIMORE, June 2.—In the United States circuit court Judge Goff, upon petition of Receivers John K. Cowen and Oscar G. Murray, signed an order approving the form of receivers' certificate to be issued in pursuance of the order of the court of May 21. This order authorized and instructed the receivers to effect a loan not exceeding $5,000,000.

Democratic Coliseum Opened.

CHICAGO, June 2.—The Coliseum building at Sixty-third street and Stony Island avenue, which the Democratic convention is to be held, has been thrown open to the public. Buffalo Bill's show was the drawing card. It was demonstrated that the building will easily accommodate a convention crowd.

Moscow's Dead Buried In Trenches.

MOSCOW, June 2.—There have been 1,277 victims buried here. The bodies of those who were identified and claimed by relatives were interred in private graves, but at the expense of the municipality. The great number of the unidentified dead were buried in 11 great trenches, each 15 yards long.

Alonzo Walling's Trial.

NEWPORT, Ky., June 2.—The second week of the trial of Alonzo Walling for the murder of Pearl Bryan opened with the usual large attendance. The examination of medical experts was continued, to bring out information about the decapitation more fully and clearly than in the trial of Scott Jackson.

THE U. P. ASSEMBLY.

Carson's Memorial Against Instrumental Music Is Rejected.

XENIA, O., June 2.—The United Presbyterian general assembly has taken up the instrumental music memorial of Dr. D. W. Carson, and decided by a large majority not to place his protest on record, but to reject it altogether, the assembly having pronounced in favor of allowing instrumental music. The committee on bills and overtures reported the vote of presbyteries on seminary control, 882 yeas and 20 nays, and the assembly enacted the overture as a part of the constitutional law of the church authorizing the general assembly to confirm or veto the election of professors to any of the theological seminaries, and to remove those unsound in doctrine.

A telegram was read from the Presbyterian assembly in session at Saratoga stating that they had taken action favoring co-operation in home missionary work. On recommendation of the committee on co-operation with the reformed synod of the south the assembly adopted resolutions favoring such plans and rules for co-operation of the boards of home missions work and church extension of the two churches as could be made effective. The matter of national reform and placing God in the constitution, a movement that had its origin in Xenia 30 years ago, took up a considerable portion of the time, and was vigorously discussed.

An important side issue of the assembly was the alumni banquet of the Westminster seminary, held in Xenia seminary, a large attendance being present. Rev. W. S. Owens presided, and the following were made honorary members. Revs. J. S. Andrew, Brooklyn; E. S. McKittrick, Los Angeles; J. I. A. Collins, Chicago; J. W. B. Edgar, Philadelphia, and J. H. Littell, Pittsburgh.

Reformed Presbyterian Synod.

CINCINNATI, June 2.—The session of the general synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church was devoted to the consideration of reports on discipline, missions, foreign correspondence, sustentation and church erection, theological seminaries and colleges. The complaint against the Pittsburgh presbytery for not granting an organization at College Hill was fully discussed. The Pittsburgh presbytery was reversed and the organization was granted. A greeting letter from the moderator at Saratoga was read "To the Noble Covenanters."

Reformed Church Synod.

DAYTON, O., June 2.—Much of the time of the general synod of the Reformed church was consumed in hearing the minutes of Pittsburgh and German synods. The battle of the German conservatives against what they consider the encroachment of the young people's societies which are supported in the English synods, was almost again precipitated. Large missions will be established among the 100,000 Poles and 70,000 Bohemians of Chicago.

REED WILL DECLINE.

Manley Says His Man Won't Have the Vice Presidency.

BOSTON, June 2.—The Boston Journal today prints the following dispatch from J. M. Manley at Bangor, Me. "I have never written to Mr. Hanna or to any other person that Hon. Thomas B. Reed would accept the nomination for vice president. On the contrary, I know Mr. Reed will not accept this nomination under any circumstances. We expect to nominate him for president."

Tennessee Exposition Opened.

NASHVILLE, June 2.—The Tennessee centennial exposition is now in full blast. It was opened by a big parade of United States troops, state militia, etc. Hon. J. M. ### For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Of Ohio.

HOMING PIGEONS.

The flight of these winged messengers is simply extraordinary. The instinct which leads them home from a great distance is wonderful, while their speed is almost beyond credence. Fanciers in our city own some fine birds and take great pride in them.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The members of the Steubenville district of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society will hold their annual meeting at the First M. E. church on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, commencing on Wednesday, holding day and night sessions. The women of this organization have been and are, in the hands of Providence, a wonderful power for good. We gladly welcome them to our midst.

CLEVELAND'S VETO.

Grover Cleveland's so-called independence has degenerated into obstinacy, a characteristic which forces him, in his egotism, to say: "All men may be wrong at times; but Grover Cleveland never." In the matter of the river and harbor bill, he may and should meet with his Waterloo. He is entirely too much a believer in the one man power—the man Grover. Let our legislators exercise their power and pass the bill over the head of the dictator.

JOB WORK.

It is generally conceded that the News Review job department turns out work far superior to that of any rival establishment in this section. This is the combined result of first class machinery and first class workmen, the latter working under the encouragement of the best wages paid the craft and good treatment. Another pleasing feature to patrons is that they get work when promised. One well known merchant of this city, who had been getting all his job work done at this office, was induced to place an order with another office in this city, the inducement being a radical cut in price. The work was turned out, and the merchant afterward reported at this office, stating that he would not place another order with the so-called cheap establishment at any price; his work had been simply murdered.

GOD BLESSES THE RIGHT.

A well-known minister of East Liverpool delivered a sermon in this city on Sunday last, in which he emphasized the assertion that God always favors and blesses the individual or individuals who stand for the truth and the right, and that opposition thereto, no matter how strong or powerful it may be, will amount to nothing and must surely fail. He might have added that "God's way is not man's way." The Bible, the word of God, the blessed book given by inspiration, asserts, in unmistakable language, that truth and right shall prevail. This is glorious information to the men and women engaged in a good and holy cause. No matter how poor in this world's goods you may be, you can have the friendship and power of the Almighty God, if you but love Him, do His bidding and put your absolute trust in Him—absolute faith—and the power of worldly influence and wealth of the world cannot avail against you, if that influence and wealth attack you and assail you unjustly. Praise our Master for His wondrous mercy.

When You Take Your Vacation

The most necessary article to have with you (after your pocketbook) is a bottle of Foley's Colic and Diarrhoea cure. It is an absolute prevention or cure of all derangements of the bowels caused by a change of water. You are likely to need it.

For sale by Reed's and Bulger's drug stores.

Excursion to Columbus

Via Pennsylvania lines, June 1 and 2, for Sunday School association of Ohio meeting, low round trip excursion tickets will be sold to Columbus, O., from ticket stations on the above lines. Valid returning June 5, inclusive.

MARINES TOOK CORINTO

U. S. and British Forces Held the Town For Days.

THEY QUELLED A REBEL MOB.

A Blustering General From Honduras Tried to Drive Them Out—The U. S. S. Alert and H. M. S. Comus Cleared For Action—Thanked by Zelaya.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The correspondent of the Associated Press sends the following from Managua, Nicaragua:

In view of the fact that the government controlled the wires at the time, your correspondent here has been compelled to send by mail the following account of the landing, on May 2, at Corinto, of a force of about 100 American and British marines, from the United States cruiser Alert and the British cruiser Comus, who occupied the place.

About March 24, Samuel Mayorga, who was minister for the treasury in the Baco or revolutionary government, made a demand on Mr. H. S. Harding, an English subject, controller of the branch at Leon of the London bank of Central America, for a loan of $50,000 on about $53,000 of Nicaragua bonds of doubtful ownership, threatening to withdraw protection from the bank if the demand was not complied with within a given time. This was prevented by the United States consular agent, backed by the Alert, there being no British vessel in port at the time.

But, on April 16, Minister Mayorga issued a decree in the name of the revolutionary government, declaring that the officers and books of the custom house at Corinto were to be at once removed to Leon, the capital of the revolutionary government, situated about 30 miles in the interior, bringing railroad trains for the purpose, adding that "owing to the fact that the troops of Honduras (sent to assist the army of President Zelaya) might at any time overcome the so-called force of President Echeverria at Corinto and seize the millions of dollars worth of merchandise in the custom house belonging to citizens of Nicaragua and to foreigners."

It was evident, however, that the real object of Mayorga's move was to obtain possession of this property and hold it as security for a war loan. The foreigners protested to Commander Hanford and to Captain Henry H. Dyke of the British cruiser Comus, which had arrived at Corinto about April 5, who refused to allow it.

This enraged Minister Mayorga so much that he caused the arrest of all native males in Corinto between the ages of 17 and 70 years, on the plea that a great battle was imminent at Momotombo. After detaining them on the railroad cars for a few hours Mayorga released all of those who could pay him from $100 to $250 in cash. This he did on May 1, when his party disbanded and sought safety in flight to Guatemala with considerable sums of money extorted from the people of Nicaragua.

Although the chiefs of the insurgent party succeeded in escaping, a great number of the officers and soldiers of the insurgent army with their arms, flocked to Corinto in the hope of getting out of the country, but were unable to get away, owing to lack of means. The disappointed soldiers became reckless after their leaders deserted them, began drinking and rioting, robbing houses and outraging women and young girls. An attack upon the custom house was planned.

Consequently, at about 1 p. m. on May 2, a force of about 100 marines, commanded by four officers and a number of midshipmen, were landed from the Alert and Comus. The marines quickly drove the rioters into hiding and released the people who were barricaded in their houses.

Commander Palmer cheerfully gave up the custom house, railroad depot, cars, locomotives and merchandise, etc., to Lieutenant Baker, U. S. N., taking the latter's receipt for the property, and then the commandant (an insurgent official) retired into private life once more. The Nicaraguan, United States and British flags were then hoisted on the building.

In the evening, General Metuta of Honduras and about 80 soldiers arrived at the outskirts of Corinto and sent forward a messenger demanding the surrender of the custom house, railroad station and port immediately and that the marines return to their ships. Honduras being an ally of Nicaragua against the rebels.

Lieutenant Baker, U. S. N., received the message and sent a reply, asking for a written request from President Zelaya of Nicaragua or some official of his competent to represent him. General Metuta evidently had no such authority.

At about 11 o'clock in the morning, on May 3, General Metuta again appeared at Corinto with about 80 Hondurans, and proceeded toward the custom house. He and his force were driven into a narrow pathway where the British marines turned their guns on them.

Lieutenant Baker signalled for Commander Hanford of the Alert and Captain Dyke of the Comus, who soon arrived at the custom house. For an hour or so, they patiently listened to Metuta's bluster, but when he threatened to occupy Corinto without waiting for President Zelaya's orders, the American and British commanders decided to teach the Hondurans a lesson.

A few sharp orders were given, and the American and British marines, fully armed and equipped were drawn up at their different stations ashore; the Alert was signalled to steam up to and opposite the custom house, and the Comus cleared for action.

The preparations had a calming effect upon General Metuta. He began to apologize as energetically as he had at first attempted to bluff, promised to retire with his troops if the American and British commanders would permit him, but they were allowed to remain, but kept quiet.

The president of Nicaragua finally sent troops and relieved the marines. He sent a message warmly thanking the United States and British commanders.

General Bonilla, vice president of Honduras, apologized for General Metuta's conduct.

LESS OIL DRILLING

One Slump In Prices Causes a Slackening of Work.

TOLEDO, June 2.—Operations in the oil fields indicate that the decline in oil recently has had a tendency to lessen active drilling. In the Ohio belt during the month there have been 382 new wells sunk, with a product daily of 6,655 barrels. Of that number of wells, however, but 47 were dry holes. Wood county is still in the lead. This county has nearly 10,000 wells, and more are being drilled every day. Hancock county is pulling ahead rapidly, and is Wood's most formidable rival.

During the month of May there were 129 new wells drilled in Wood county, 61 in Hancock, 14 in Allen, 35 in Auglaize, 67 in Sandusky, 11 in Lucas, 31 in Mercer, 8 in Van Wert, 16 in Seneca and quite a number scattered over other counties, and largely experimental in character. In the counties named there are at present 391 wells drilling.

In Indiana the operations are being chiefly confined to the counties of Wells, Blackford, Jay, Adams, Grant and Huntington, and in these counties 142 wells were completed in the month of May. In the same counties 164 new wells are now drilling. The total new output for the month of May has averaged 2,545 barrels daily.

The new stocks of oil owned by the Buckeye Pipe Lines is increasing daily, and about 22,000,000 barrels of the Trenton rock fluid are now stored in tanks. There are now about 700 of these mammoth tanks in Indiana and Ohio, and so rapidly are they filling during the slump in prices that arrangements have been made for the completion of 25 more in the vicinity of Findlay.

The Western Oil Men's association is endeavoring to have the operators use crude oil for fuel in pumping their wells, in preference to purchasing coal for that purpose. This would cut down the runs at least 10,000 barrels per day.

Make It Hot For Saloonkeepers.

WASHINGTON, C. H., O., June 2.—The saloon men in this locality are faring badly at the hands of the newly-elected mayors. At Hillsboro, Mayor Davis is working hard to enforce the laws regulating saloons. At Greenfield the past week Mayor Mains fined six saloon men $100 each for selling on last Sunday. Mayor Zimmerman of this city has ordered the arrest of a half dozen liquor dealers for violating various ordinances. He fined Brent Ott $50 and costs for selling on Sunday, and a number of cases will come up for hearing this week.

MANY INJURED DYING.

Burial Permits Issued Each Hour In St. Louis.

A LIST OF 120 STILL MISSING.

Many of Them Are People Living Outside of St. Louis Who Were Visiting There—Meeting to Be Called to Ask For Aid.

ST. LOUIS, June 2.—The work of clearing up the debris and repairing the damage left by Wednesday's storm continued with unabated vigor, despite the drizzling rain that has been falling, making it uncomfortable for workers and victims alike. Teams donated to the use of the storm sufferers have been used by many to move from their dismantled homes to places of security and shelter and this good work still goes on without cessation. Great numbers of people are receiving aid at the different relief depots in the way of food, clothing and household necessities that have been donated by the citizens of St. Louis. The best news is that the occupants of the demolished city hospital, 40 or 50 of whom were reported still under the ruins last week, are all accounted for. A roll call disclosed this fact.

A meeting has been called to consider the advisability of appealing for outside relief for sufferers. A list of 120 persons missing in St. Louis since the storm, is in the hands of the police. Many among them are people from outside of St. Louis who were visiting here or who had business in town. A search is being carried on for all these among the ruins of wrecked buildings.

In East St. Louis the work of relieving many homeless and destitute persons is being carried on rapidly and everywhere buildings are being repaired and debris removed to facilitate the reconstruction of residences, stores, etc. An official estimate of the loss to shipping has not yet been made and will not be until the submerged boats have been examined. The first estimate of $2,000,000 has dwindled down to less than $500,000 and the chances are that these figures will be reduced materially. Five persons were certainly drowned and probably others.

The continuous rains are a great drawback to the vigorous efforts that are being made to start the street lights. Six days have elapsed since the terrible tornado swept over the city, and yet the long list of the dead has not reached the foot of its lengthy column. Nor is it likely that the end of this week or the next will finish it.

The number of seriously injured is many fold larger than those who did not live to survive the awful experiences of the storm and that many of them will succumb to the injuries inflicted is quite certain, for each hour the mortuary clerk is presented with new requests for burial permits.

Many animals of all descriptions were killed in the storm and their bodies are becoming a menace to those living in and about the devastated districts. These are being rapidly removed. In the last few days 130 horses and mules and five cows have been carted away. Their bodies were mangled in every conceivable manner and were found in all kinds of places. A similar work will be done in East St. Louis, where the numerous animals killed are becoming offensive.

Among the subscriptions received is one of $500 from Oates, Son & Co. of the National Bank of Scotland, in London, and $1,000 from Helen M. Gould.

NON-PARTISAN TARIFF.

A Convention to Discuss It Opens In Detroit This Afternoon.

DETROIT, June 2.—The first commercial tariff convention begins a week or ten days' session here this afternoon. A considerable number of delegates are here, among them men who are vitally interested in eliminating questions of tariffs from politics and placing them in the realm of commercial subjects. One of the most prominent early arrivals is W. C. Cronmeyer of McKeesport, Pa., president of the United States Iron and Tinplate company, the pioneer in the tinplate industry, and who was a prominent figure before the McKinley house committee which prepared the McKinley tariff law. Secretary Archer of the Tariff Commission League says that he expects at least 1,000 delegates. The discussions will be confined strictly to the business features of tariff affairs, and political speeches will not be permitted. The delegates present will represent commercial and labor, and not political organizations.

The B. & O. to Borrow $5,000,000.

BALTIMORE, June 2.—In the United States circuit court Judge Goff, upon petition of Receivers John K. Cowen and Oscar G. Murray, signed an order approving the form of receivers' certificate to be issued in pursuance of the order of the court of May 21. This order authorized and instructed the receivers to effect a loan not exceeding $5,000,000.

Moscow's Dead Buried In Trenches.

MOSCOW, June 2.—There have been 1,377 victims buried here. The bodies of those who were identified and claimed by relatives were interred in private graves, but at the expense of the municipality. The great number of the unidentified dead were buried in 11 great trenches, each 15 yards long.

Alonzo Walling's Trial.

THE U. P. ASSEMBLY.

Carson's Memorial Against Instrumental Music Is Rejected.

XENIA, O., June 2.—The United Presbyterian general assembly has taken up the instrumental music memorial of Dr. D. W. Carson, and decided by a large majority not to place his protest on record, but to reject it altogether, the assembly having pronounced in favor of allowing instrumental music. The committee on bills and overtures reported the vote of presbyteries on seminary control, 882 yeas and 20 nays, and the assembly enacted the overture as a part of the constitutional law of the church authorizing the general assembly to confirm or veto the election of professors to any of the theological seminaries, and to remove those unsound in doctrine.

A telegram was read from the Presbyterian assembly in session at Saratoga stating that they had taken action favoring co-operation in home missionary work. On recommendation of the committee on co-operation with the reformed synod of the south the assembly adopted resolutions favoring such plans and rules for co-operation of the boards of home missions work and church extension of the two churches as could be made effective. The matter of national reform and placing God in the constitution, a movement that had its origin in Xenia 30 years ago, took up a considerable portion of the time, and was vigorously discussed.

An important side issue of the assembly was the alumni banquet of the Westminster seminary, held in Xenia seminary, a large attendance being present. Rev. W. S. Owens presided, and the following were made honorary members. Revs. J. S. Andrew, Brooklyn; E. S. McKittick, Los Angeles; J. A. Collins, Chicago; J. W. B. Edgar, Philadelphia, and J. H. Littell, Pittsburgh.

Reformed Presbyterian Synod.

CINCINNATI, June 2.—The session of the general synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church was devoted to the consideration of reports on discipline, missions, foreign correspondence, sustentation and church erection, theological seminaries and colleges. The complaint against the Pittsburgh presbytery for not granting an organization at College Hill was fully discussed. The Pittsburgh presbytery was reversed and the organization was granted. A greeting letter from the moderator at Saratoga was read "To the Noble Covenanters."

Reformed Church Synod.

DAYTON, O., June 2.—Much of the time of the general synod of the Reformed church was consumed in hearing the minutes of Pittsburgh and German synods. The battle of the German conservatives against what they consider the encroachment of the young people's societies which are supported in the English synods, was almost again precipitated. Large missions will be established among the 100,000 Poles and 70,000 Bohemians of Chicago.

REED WILL DECLINE.

Manley Says His Man Won't Have the Vice Presidency.

BOSTON, June 2.—The Boston Journal today prints the following dispatch from J. M. Manley at Bangor, Me. "I have never written to Mr. Hanna or to any other person that Hon. Thomas B. Reed would accept the nomination for vice president. On the contrary, I know Mr. Reed will not accept this nomination under any circumstances. We expect to nominate him for president."

Winnie Mercer Left This Afternoon.

HIS LAST VISIT THIS SEASON

The Contents of That Mysterious Box Presented to Him in Washington—What the Players Are Doing—The Junctions Cannot Play Here Saturday.

Win Mercer left on the 4:30 train this afternoon for Washington. He will not be at home again until the close of the season, unless something happens, as the Washington team, the next time they are in the West, will only play one game in Pittsburgh, and go from there to Cincinnati on the same evening, thus only giving him a few hours at home, even if he could get away.

The mysterious box given Mercer in Washington contained a box of cigars; and $20, with which to pay his fines.

The Eclipse football team are considering the idea of changing the name of the club to the "East Liverpools." A great many of the members favor the change, as they think the latter name would be more appropriate. The colors, red and black, will remain the same, however.

The clerks base ball club, having heard of an organization of that kind in Wellsville, will challenge them for a game of ball, to be played at any time, or any place they may see fit.

Two juvenile base ball clubs played on the West End grounds yesterday afternoon, the Rose & Dix nine defeating the Hustlers by a score of 13 to 11.

"Dicky" Padden is playing an excellent game of ball at second base for Toronto.

The Westlake brothers are putting up their usual good game at Hazleton. Hobright is also with that team, and is well known here, having covered left garden for many teams on their visits to the city.

"Bobby" Cargo is playing at short for Carbondale, and is playing a good game for them, fielding in fine style and hitting the ball hard.

Manager Morris this morning received word from the Junctions, of Pittsburgh, that they would be unable to play here Saturday, as they had another date. A strong team will be secured, however, and the patrons of the game will not be disappointed.

The strong Holy Ghost college team will be here for a game on Thursday, June 11.

Mr. G. A. Stillson, a merchant of Tampico, Ill., writes, August 10, 1891: "Foley's Kidney cure is meeting with wonderful success. It has cured some cases here that physicians pronounced incurable. I myself am able to testify to its merits. My face today is a living picture of health, and Foley's Kidney cure has made it such. I had suffered 27 years with the disease, and today I feel 10 years younger than I did one year ago. I can obtain some wonderful certificates of its medical qualities."

For sale at Reed's and Bulger's drug stores.

INCREASE IN SALARIES.

upon the question of a point of order was raised, but not sustained. The members were still divided, and the argument was continued.

The board clearly demonstrated that the point at issue was not taken antagonistic to Mr. Sanor. It was merely a desire to conform with the laws.

Mr. McClain arose and administered a rebuke to a local paper for stating, in a long article, that he and other members of the board were trying to oust Superintendent Sanor from his present position. Subsequent developments serve to show that the down town sheet was away wide of the mark when it made those assertions.

Clerk Norris moved that Mr. Sanor be re-elected to act as superintendent for another year at a salary of $1,800. Mr. Nickle seconded the motion.

Mrs. Whitehead inquired if the salary of the superintendent could be diminished. Mr. Sanor said that, according to law, it could not. When he came here three years ago it was with the understanding that he would get the limit. Mr. Vorey asked that the law be read governing this point.

Mr. Sanor desired to know upon what grounds this action was being taken? Whether it was to reduce his salary or test the validity of the former board's action. He was assured that it was for the latter reason.

Clerk Norris then stated that he would change his resolution and make it to endorse instead of engage.

This, the superintendent thought, was equally as absurd as the motion that was first put. Mr. Sanor said that he had no confidence in what a local paper had said in regard to an alleged movement on foot to oust him. President McGraw also spoke disparagingly on what the local sheet had published on this matter. A motion was made to table the matter for another week, but it was defeated, and an extended discussion between the superintendent and Mr. McClain followed.

It was suggested that advice be asked from the solicitor to determine whether or not the action of the former board, in engaging Mr. Sanor for a term of three years, is valid now. The matter was then laid over until next week.

Attention, Soldiers.

Now that Squire Rose has left the city I respectfully solicit your favor and patronage. My office will be open at an early hour June 4 for the proper execution of pension vouchers. Office No 163 Washington street.

VETERAN.

Knights of old—crusaders who went to conquer the world, could not hope to succeed unless they were in virile, hearty health. A man cannot face difficulties if his stomach isn't in good order. Disordered digestion will make a sluggish coward out of any man. It makes his mind stagnant, and he cannot think quickly enough to accomplish anything. It makes his movements slow, and takes all of the snap out of him. Every man in business in America has a fight on his hands just as much as ever had belted knight. It is a matter of life and death, just the same with him as it was with the crusader. Indigestion and all the ills that go with it, most frequently start in constipation. That keeps all sorts of impurities in the body, forces them into the blood, and so deranges the whole system. Constipation is one of the commonest ills, and to it are traceable most of the disorders that make people sick. Once it gets a firm hold on a man, it is most difficult to overcome it. Temporary relief can be obtained in a thousand ways. There are medicines on the market that will help as long as you take them. There is only one remedy that is a real remedy—that you don't have to keep on taking forever. That is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. The "Pellets" are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and efficient in their action. They effect a permanent cure. You don't become a slave to their use, as with other pills.

If you will send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, we will send you FREE the most useful medical book extant. This is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in plain English; a book of 1008 pages, profusely illustrated, the great expense of preparing which has been covered by the sale of 500,000 copies at the regular price, $1.50 per copy. Address: The Medical Dispensary, National Association, No. 263 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SKATING STORIES.

They Were Good Enough to Tell, but Their Truth Was Doubtful.

The group were talking about skating. "I don't pretend to be much of a skater," said the man with his feet on the mantelpiece. "The last time I indulged in the pastime, though, I had the good luck to slip into an airhole."

"You don't call that good luck, do you?" asked the man who had been trying to break into the conversation and tell a story himself.

"Well, under ordinary circumstances I wouldn't call it good luck," replied the man with his feet on the mantel, "but in this instance it led to my catching the largest fish ever found in this section of the country. It happened this way: I was skating around the airhole, and at last ran plump into it. The lower part of my body went under the ice, but I was able to hold myself up by the arms. At last a man came to help me out, but one of my skates seemed to have become entangled in something below the surface, and he had to call for assistance. Several persons responded, and by their united efforts pulled me and a four pound rock bass through the airhole. The jaws of the fish were held apart by one of my skate blades. I suppose," he added by way of explanation, "that I must have struck my foot in his mouth when I first went down."

It was the unuttered consensus of opinion that the speaker was a liar.

There was a short pause, and the man who had been waiting for a chance to tell of an adventure on Lake Superior. He said that while skating there one evening, far from shore, he was pursued by a monstrous gray wolf. "The wolf chased me about considerably," he said, "but I wasn't afraid, because I always was a good skater and could beat any wolf that was ever created when it came to getting around on the ice. After I had a little fun with the animal, making 'figure eights' and things like that around him, I thought I would put him to some use. So I made a dash around to his rear and caught hold of his tail with one hand. I had a shiny stick in the other and beat him across the back with it. Well, gentlemen, that beast was so shocked and surprised that he didn't know what to do. He jumped around just like a colt that was being broken in. I held on tight, though, and he finally came to the conclusion that he wanted to go home, and lit out for shore.

"Gentlemen, I know you will believe me when I say that that was the supreme moment of my life. There I was—a-holding to the wolf's tail with one hand, beating him with the shiny stick which I held in the other, and flying over the glassy surface at the rate of about 40 miles an hour. As we neared the shore he slowed up some, and on reaching the land lay down and died from exhaustion.

"I have his hide at home now," concluded the narrator, "and you can see it if you want to."

This seemed satisfactory proof of the truth of the tale. At least no one questioned it, and the meeting adjourned.—Washington Star.

Saltiest of Seas.

Some idea of the saltiness of the waters of the Dead sea may be gained from the comparison made below. The Dead sea is situated in Palestine, 20 miles east of Jerusalem. It is 35 miles long and from 10 to 15 miles wide, with an average depth of 20 fathoms (120 feet). Common ocean water contains but 30 parts of salt to the 1,000. That of the Dead sea contains 250 parts to the 1,000, which makes the briny solution exactly one-fourth salt.

After I had a little fun with the animal, making 'figure eights' and things like that around him, I thought I would put him to some use. So I made a dash around his rear and caught hold of his tail with one hand. I had a shiny stick in the other and beat him across the back with it. Well, gentlemen, that beast was so shocked and surprised that he didn't know what to do. He jumped around just like a colt that was being broken in. I held on tight, though, and he finally came to the conclusion that he wanted to go home, and lit out for shore."

"Gentlemen, I know you will believe me when I say that that was the supreme moment of my life. There I was a-holding to the wolf's tail with one hand, beating him with the shiny stick which I held in the other, and flying over the glassy surface at the rate of about 40 miles an hour. As we neared the shore he slowed up some, and on reaching the land lay down and died from exhaustion."

"I have his hide at home now," concluded the narrator, "and you can see it if you want to."

This seemed satisfactory proof of the truth of the tale. At least no one questioned it, and the meeting adjourned.—Washington Star.

SKATING STORIES.

They Were Good Enough to Tell, but Their Truth Was Doubtful.

The group were talking about skating. "I don't pretend to be much of a skater," said the man with his feet on the mantelpiece. "The last time I indulged in the pastime, though, I had the good luck to slip into an airhole."

"You don't call that good luck, do you?" asked the man who had been trying to break into the conversation and tell a story himself.

"Well, under ordinary circumstances I wouldn't call it good luck," replied the man with his feet on the mantel, "but in this instance it led to my catching the largest fish ever found in this section of the country. It happened this way: I was skating around the airhole, and at last ran plump into it. The lower part of my body went under the ice, but I was able to hold myself up by the arms. At last a man came to help me out, but one of my skates seemed to have become entangled in something below the surface, and he had to call for assistance. Several persons responded, and by their united efforts pulled me and a four pound rock bass through the airhole. The jaws of the fish were held apart by one of my skate blades. I suppose," he added by way of explanation, "that I must have struck my foot in his mouth when I first went down."

It was the unuttered consensus of opinion that the speaker was a liar.

There was a short pause, and the man who had been waiting for a chance told of an adventure on Lake Superior. He said that while skating there one evening, far from shore, he was pursued by a monstrous gray wolf. "The wolf chased me about considerably," he said, "but I wasn't afraid, because I always was a good skater and could beat any wolf that was ever created when it came to getting around on the ice. After I had a little fun with the animal, making 'figure eights' and things like that around him, I thought I would put him to some use. So I made a dash around his rear and caught hold of his tail with one hand. I had a shiny stick in the other and beat him across the back with it. Well, gentlemen, that beast was so shocked and surprised that he didn't know what to do. He jumped around just like a colt that was being broken in.
